

A buzzing enterprise flies on the wings of honeybees from a quiet ridge in the hills of Kentucky. Candle B

Beekeeper Heidi Sanner shares the elements of her craft at a workshop.

Heidi, who formerly worked as a CPA in one of the largest national firms, has turned an 83 acre farm and

Ms. Sanner walks her talk. She is a raw food vegetarian, beekeeper and crafter of unique beeswax candles.

As Candle Bee Farm™ has grown, so has its far reaching benefits. The demand for these all natural, beeswax candles

Pure beeswax is a renewable, natural resource. Bees fill honeycomb with honey and cap it with more beeswax.

Bees are kept naturally at Candle Bee Farm™ without the use of chemicals. Over several generations, the bees

A portion of the proceeds from Candle Bee Farm™ candle sales are donated to charities benefitting children.

If you are interested in obtaining an interview, running a feature or release about Heidi Sanner and/or Candle Bee Farm, please contact beekeeper@candlebeefarm.com

Experience hand crafted quality from our Kentucky Ridge. Non-toxic, unscented, lead free. CandleBee tapers, plain pillars and votive styles are dripleless. Choose solid poured or rolled honeycomb, all natural gifts from the honey bees. There is only one Candle Bee Farm but we are often called Candle Bee Farms or CandleBeeFarms. By any name, we are here for your health with pure Beeswax creations (sometimes spelled Bees Wax Candles, BeeswaxCandles or BeeWax for search purposes). Remember to select an organic herbal or lavender sachet, bouquet or wreath for a lovely compliment to your natural atmosphere.